David J. Csiki, Managing Director, INDATA: "iPM is a revolutionary approach to portfolio management and presents a different paradigm for investment management firms."

Indata, the provider of SaaS (Software as a Service) for buy-side firms including trade order management (OMS), compliance, portfolio accounting and front-to-back office has announced the release of Indata iPM - Intelligent Portfolio Management as well as availability of the latest version of its suite of products - IMS 8 - which feature Indata iPM Technology.

INDATA iPM - Intelligent Portfolio Management® is a new platform and set of technologies for buy-side firms that allow end users to collaborate in real-time across the enterprise. iPM is intended to increase end user productivity, enhance the investment process and offer real-time risk, compliance and performance monitoring as well as integrated tools for marketing.

"iPM is a revolutionary approach to portfolio management and presents a different paradigm for investment management firms," said David J. Csiki, Managing Director, INDATA. "iPM significantly improves business agility, decreases operational risk and administrative overhead, and provides investment managers with transparency and a competitive advantage for targeting and managing new and existing business," he added.
