WCM INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT UPGRADES TO INDATA iPM FOR GROWING INSTITUTIONAL BUSINESS

Firm Enhances Institutional Class Functionality for Risk Management, Compliance and Trading via iPM

Greenwich, CT, January 10, 2012 -- INDATA, a leading industry provider of software and services for buy-side firms including trade order management (OMS), compliance, portfolio accounting and front-to-back office today announced that WCM Investment Management, based in Laguna Beach, CA, is now live with INDATA's iPM – Intelligent Portfolio Management platform.

The INDATA iPM system contains the best of class functionality demanded by sophisticated institutional investors. iPM contains a built in risk management engine that assesses data on a real-time basis and alerts designated end users before issues become problems. iPM Compliance provides comprehensive pre, post and real-time compliance. It also offers a full API for customizing compliance rules that may be required to bring on business with the ability to show these rules in action to consultants and prospects.

On the trading side, iPM provides full multi-currency international trading capabilities including the automated trade settlement functionality required for international markets. Available via the Cloud, iPM provides for greater operational and cost efficiencies over the long term as well as business continuity planning capabilities through its high availability DR (Disaster Recovery) features.

“The requirements of our institutional clients call for a sophisticated portfolio management system and iPM accomplishes this task for us,” commented David Brewer, Chief Compliance and Operations Officer. “In addition, iPM provides the necessary multi-currency, multi-instrument functionality for our growing international product,” he added.

“Firms like WCM understand the importance of having a fully integrated technology platform in place that will scale with their business,” commented David J. Csiki, Managing Director, INDATA. “We are very pleased to have them as a client,” he added.
